“Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robe, and love greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and the chief rooms at feasts; which devour widows’ houses, and for a shew make long prayers: the same shall receive greater damnation.”

A Guide to Good Living

Learn to laugh; a laugh is better than medicine.

Learn to mind your own business; few men can handle their own well.

Learn to tell a story; a well-told story is like a sunbeam in a sick-room.

Learn to say kind things; nobody ever resents them.

Learn to stop grumbling; if you can’t see any good in the world, keep the bad to yourself.

Learn to love other people; this is a doorway to the kingdom.

Learn to place yourself in the other person’s position before condemning; it might change your whole outlook.

Learn the great lessons of the Bible; no greater lessons can be learned.
